

Join our Student Parent Support Group!

Let's navigate this journey together —because every student parent deserves support as they create a brighter future for themselves and their family.

For more information, email:

Elise Caloca, Student Completion Coordinator:
elise_caloca@cuesta.edu

Lucy Rodriguez, Foster Youth Services Coordinator:
lucero_rodriguez@cuesta.edu

What We Offer:

Peer and Instructor-Led Support:

Connect with fellow student parents and instructors who understand your unique challenges and are here to support you on your educational journey.

Interactive Workshops: Learn about childcare resources, gain valuable time management skills, academic success strategies, and more.

Access to Resources: Explore our resources for student parents, including childcare assistance, financial aid guidance, and academic advising.

Fundraising Opportunities: Participate in fundraising events and initiatives to support student parent scholarships and programs.

Why Join Us:

Community: Build meaningful connections with other student parents who share similar experiences and can offer encouragement and advice.

Empowerment: Gain the tools and knowledge you need to navigate the challenges of balancing parenthood and academics with confidence.

Support: Receive emotional support and practical guidance from peers and instructors who are dedicated to your success.

How to Get Involved:

Attend Meetings: Join us for our regular meetings during which you can participate in workshops and engage in discussions and networking opportunities.

Follow Us: Stay updated on upcoming events and resources by following us on social media and joining our online community.

Spread the Word: Help us reach more student parents by sharing information about our group with your peers.

Consider enrolling in CDFS 217 - Study of Parenting. Emphasizes development of a parenting philosophy and effective parenting behaviors across the lifespan.

